I read last week where the Moreland school district bought two new buses for $38,325 while the Campbell (elementary) district is spending a quarter of a million dollars for just four buses, What's the reason for the big difference?

A Taxpayer

Editor's note: The buses are different, both school districts report. Moreland's 66-passenger gasoline powered buses will cost about $19,000 each while Campbell's 79-passenger diesels average about $65,625 a piece. The question was also raised by Campbell trustees at their meeting last Thursday. According to a district source, "the Campbell board feels the safety of the children is the most important thing." Expected maintenance and repairs and longevity was also factors. Superintendent Richard Davis of the Moreland district responded, "We're not talking about safety here," he said. The specifications for all school buses in California are set in the state administrative codes, he said, adding that the body of the Campbell school bus is not stronger than that of Moreland's. What the Campbell district does have, Davis says, is a big $14,000 diesel engine. "And it's one heck of a bus." The Gillig buses purchased by Campbell have an expected life of 20 years compared to between 10 and 12 years for the International Harvester's ordered by Moreland. By way of contrast we contacted the Campbell High School District reports they purchased a 79-passenger Gillig diesel bus in September of 1977 for $56,450.

Last week I saw school buses lined up in front of Campbell High School in the red zone. If I tried to park there I would get a ticket.

Unhappy Motorist

Editor's note: According to a Campbell Police Department spokesman, the bus loading zone in front of the high school was painted red to keep other vehicles out.

Just wanted to know if there will be a free trash pick up this year?

Curious

Editor's note: Yes, TOMORROW! Unfortunately, we did not get notice of it until last week, too late to give adequate advanced notice.

Why, after two years, can't the sports writers get the Campbell High School all-league pitcher's name right? His name is Mike Sullivan, not Mark Sullivan. Why can't they take the time to get the names right?

Cable TV rates will be going up

By MIKE MYSLINSKI

CAMPBELL cable television subscribers are going to be paying more for their entertainment from now on.

Monday night the City Council unanimously voted to grant a 7.3 percent "cost of living" rate increase to Gill cable, sole supplier of cable services in Campbell.

The increase hikes the monthly cost of cable from $10.95 to $11.75.

The council voted to grant the rate increase after listening to several cable subscribers protest the hike.

Robert Sears, 350 Budd Ave., said it's unfair of Gill Cable to charge subscribers for cable feature movies, offered on the "G" channel, when many subscribers don't even watch them.

SEARS ALSO pointed out that apartment dwellers must subscribe to Gill Cable because rooftop aerials are either forbidden or ineffectual.

Louise Atwood, a resident of the Timber Cove mobile home park, said many senior citizens are a "captive audience" to cable because it is necessary in many apartments in order to get clear reception.

Allen Gilliland, president of Gill Cable, told the council he resented the captive audience complaint. He said "deed restrictions" on apartments forbid outside aerials and that his company is willing to negotiate with apartment dwellers interested in buying a Gill system that would provide access to standard channels only.

"WE DO NOT want customers who feel we are forcing something down their throats," Gilliland said.

"We are trapped," Atwood told Gilliland. "Maybe you didn't trap us but

Local hospital bankrupt

By PAT SAFFORD

THE SALE OF Campbell Community Hospital to O'Connor Hospital of San Jose is now in the hands of a bankruptcy court judge.

Last week directors of the 48-bed facility, which closed its doors last December, consented to an involuntary petition in bankruptcy filed by three creditors on Feb. 24, 1978.

A financial statement submitted by William Fowler, vice president of the local hospital board, shows $1 million in debts plus additional, undetermined amounts, and total assets of $418,037. A large share of those assets ($218,037) represents expected profits on the sale to O'Connor at $1,970,000.

According to Stephen Knudsen, attorney for petitioners Dr. Parvis Pakdamen, John Anderson and Harry Sagheb, the bankruptcy judge will review the sale transaction with O'Connor dated Jan. 6, 1978. The judge, he said, can either allow that sale to go through or, if other prospective buyers come forward, could call for sealed bids on the land, buildings, equipment and 50 acute bed license.

JAMES BURKE, attorney for Campbell Community, said last week the board consented to the proceedings to make sure O'Connor gets clear title. Burke says he doesn't expect any problem with having that sale approved by the judge.

"It (the sale) could go through as soon as two weeks." Burke added. "And most people who are owed money will be getting it."

According to the statement of debts filed last week the list of unsecured creditors alone numbers 105 and ranges from $88,790 to the National Real Estate Investment Trust and $181,000 to California Canadian Bank to $1 due the Radiation Detection Company of Sunnyvale.

The statement of real and personal property sold to O'Connor in January for close to $2 million, shows $1,751,963 in expenses on the sale. Those expenses include a 6 per cent commission to Board Vice President Fowler of $115,800.

"He's worked on that sale for two years," Burke said of the Fowler commission last week.

OTHER EXPENSES of the sale include obligations to the real estate trust of $271,500, a mortgage payment of $743,795 and equipment cost to Security National Bank of $287,550. The purchase of three adjacent parcels was part of that sale and the cost, $70,000, $76,000 and $40,000, were listed along with a mortgage to Cal Canadian of $110,000.

The rules in bankruptcy set up a priority list for payment to creditors. First payments go to secured creditors, then to pay taxes owed, employee payments come next and unsecured creditors are last in line.

ACCORDING TO the financial statement, the hospital owes $368,650 to secured creditors (balanced against the $105,500 market value of the property), and $10,500 in withholding taxes to the Internal Revenue Services. Employee payments of $42,000 are also listed. When the hospital shut its doors for good shortly before Christmas employees did not receive their last paycheck or accumulated vacation pay.

In addition to the expected commission to Fowler, records show payments to hospital directors and officers of $14,313 during the last year. Attorney James Burke, who serves as secretary of the board, received approximately $8,000 in fees while Director Thomas Burke received about $2,200 in consulting fees. Director Earl Lucas, D.P.M. was paid $4,113.30 in rent for a building at 811 Altos Oaks drive in Los Altos. Other directors, Dr. Smith Ketchum, Dr. Robert M. Barr and William Fowler, received no payments, records indicate.

The financial statement specifies amounts due on utilities, lab fees, consultant fees and supplies several firms and individuals with unspecified claims such as the Valley Fair Medical Group, Campbell Medical Clinic, Kendall Hospital Division and Community Psychiatric Center. Litton Industries and Dr. G.B. Youngberg are also listed with as yet undetermined claims.

THE ORIGINAL involuntary bankruptcy petition, filed by Knudsen in late February, gives two causes for bringing action. First, that Campbell Community Hospital offered preferential transfers to creditors (a routine charge). The second cause of action was the allegation that a fraudulent transfer made in the sale to O'Connor.

Knudsen reported last week the second cause of action, the supposed fraudulent transfer, was not justified. He later learned, Knudsen said, the transaction had not been completed.

That sale is now up to the judge.

Let's hear it for number 8

When baseball and softball season opened last week Ellen, Tim and Linda Farnham came home with more in common than their shoes and gloves. The three, children of Alice and Richard Farnham, 115 McBain court, have the same team colors (red and blue) and the same number (8). Tim, 11, plays for Campbell Little League while Linda, 12, and Ellen, 9, compete in the West Valley Bobby Sox League. According to their mother, Tim expected to receive his number. For the girls, who play on separate teams in the league, it was coincidence.

we are trapped."

"You're on the back of the wrong person," Gilliland responded, referring to the possibility that apartment dwellers can negotiate with their landlords for alternative television systems.

Gilliland also defended the offering of feature, major-studio movies. He said subscriptions zoomed when the program was first offered.

"The proof of the pudding is in the eating. And the people are eating the pudding," Gilliland declared.

He admitted that a $3 discount offered to senior citizens several years ago has not been increased in proportion to the rate increases.

In other action Monday, the council:

- Appointed Myron Alexander as the city representative on the board of directors for the Campbell Progressive Seniors group.
- Directed staff to obtain renovation estimates for two proposed sites for a senior citizens center located at 266 and 257 East Campbell Ave. The council will review the estimates before deciding location to choose.

BOMB THREAT AT TOWERS

A telephoned bomb threat last Thursday afternoon caused the evacuation of the first five floors of the Towers building for more than 30 minutes.

According to police reports, the threat was called into the office of an attorney on the third floor. No bomb was found.

ATTEMPTED ARSON

A condominium under construction on Union ave. was saved from possible destruction last week by a passerby who noticed flames coming from a laundry area and alerted authorities. The man also observed two young children running from the scene.

Police reports indicate paper had been ignited in a small can in the laundry area.

WERE PAPERS COMING OR GOING?

A 32-year-old San Jose man was cited for petty theft last Wednesday after a member of the Campbell Golden Lions club said he observed the man removing newspapers from the collection bin at the Hamilton Plaza shopping center.

The club member radioed for police help on his CB radio.

When police arrived they found the man with papers loaded in his pick-up truck. The man argued he was putting the papers in the bin, not taking them out.

Value of the theft was estimated at $10.

ARRESTS IN LOCAL FRACUS

Four young men, including two juveniles, were arrested by Campbell police on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon last week while a similar complaint is being sought against a fifth companion.

According to reports, a 34-year-old Campbell man was visited at his second floor apartment on Marathon drive on April 16 by the group who charged he had been bothering the mother of one of the youths. The man denied the charge and said he had never spoken to the woman.

According to the victim, during the ensuing argument he was struck with a tire iron by one suspect and threatened with knives by two others. He was reportedly also dragged from the apartment and thrown down a flight of stairs.

The man says he ran to the apartment complex office to attempt to call police but couldn't get any response from other apartment residents. (One neighbor did put in the call to police.)

When police arrived the five had fled and a follow-up investigation led to the arrests.

The two juveniles were taken to Juvenile Hall and the two adults, 18 and 19 years old, were booked into County Jail.

The suspects gave different accounts of the incident, including one who told police the victim had the tire iron.

Two suspects told police they just went to the man's apartment to scare him because they had been told by one youth's mother the man had been staring at her and she was afraid of him.

FOUR CITY TREES DAMAGED

Four trees in the parking strip on Orchard City drive, between Second and First st., were reported damaged last weekend.

The malicious mischief report filed by Park Foreman Don Bergman, shows a loss of $300.

IMPERSONATING AN OFFICER

Two 26-year-old San Jose men were arrested by Campbell police last week after they allegedly posed as police officers and stopped a car.

According to reports, the victims had just turned on to Almarida avenue from Hamilton when the two suspects, driving a 1968 Plymouth, forced their car to the curb.

One suspect approached the driver's side of the car while the other stood on the passenger's side.

One man reportedly declared, "I'm the police" and demanded identification from the driver. When the man asked to see the "policeman's" identification an argument broke out and the two victims were aksed, "Do you want to go to jail?"

As the argument became heated the second suspect reportedly approached one victim with a knife and lunged for him. The victim escaped the intended blow and flagged down a Campbell patrolman he spotted driving west on Hamilton avenue.

The two suspects fled but were apprehended by two other Campbell patrolmen a short time later.

One man was arrested on charges of impersonating a police officer and battery and the second on a charge of brandishing a knife.

The new Santa Clara GOOD EARTH restaurant just opened to an appreciative public, who have found their Cupertino & Palo Alto restaurants simply spectacular . . . I'm one of their fans! Everything is cooked fresh from scratch, good wholesome foods that taste "good" & are moderately priced, too. They bake their own pastries (try their award-winning "carrot cake"), & prepare their famous beef stroganoff & shrimp curry in a Chinese wok — cooked to order. I love their giant Tostada. Do stop by GOOD EARTH — the newest location is just 7/10 of a mile up Alameda off Highway 17 — serving breakfast, lunch & dinner. Now doesn't this give you the idea that GOOD EARTH is something very special? Visit in Palo Alto or Cupertino, too!

I recently enjoyed a marvelous dinner at CLEMENTINE'S restaurant . . . they serve excellent continental cuisine — this restaurant seems to change personalities in the evening when the lights are lowered & fine dinners are served in a more relaxed atmosphere . . . then as you step across the foyer into the busy lounge you may dance & enjoy the great sounds of "LIGHT," & I keep hearing rave reviews from everyone who has enjoyed them. I highly recommend you stop by to enjoy a fine dining experience & the jazz sounds of "LIGHT."

Hot & Sour Soup is one of my favorites, & Owner/Chef Pang On Lwi of HWEI FU SHING RESTAURANT prepares it expertly . . . his restaurant background is formidable & his expertise is unending. Try the Crisp Egg Rolls & Spicy Hot Shredded Pork — simply delicious. You'll find true family hospitality here & there's always a spec. treat for the kiddies, too, so why don't you stop by some day or evening soon?

Don't confuse SIRLOIN AND BREW UNLIMITED w/the cafeteria line-style steak houses. You get much more for your money at SIRLOIN AND BREW. For example the lavish salad bar is incl. w/dinner, not extra-priced. You receive reg. waiter-waitress service for dinner, rather than self-service cafeteria-style. S & B provides all the bread & butter you wish, not one piece. And best of all, instead of charging extra for wine, S & B incls. all you wish (plus beer or sangria) within price of dinner. For less than $5 total you get everything! What a buy!

$350,000 in damages

Suspects quizzed in school arson fires

ARSON INVESTIGATORS are following up leads on several suspects in the wake of two blazes last weekend that caused $350,000 in damages to two local schools.

According to Captain James Friday, arson inspector, questioning is underway involving students and witnesses to the two related fires.

The first fire was reported shortly before 9 p.m. Sunday night at Sherman Oaks School. That blaze, which destroyed two rooms and damaged two more, was started in at least two locations at the 1800 Fruitdale ave. school, according to Friday.

The Del Mar High School blaze, which caused an estimated $225,000 in damages, was reported shortly before 2 a.m. Monday morning.

Fires had been set to two lockers outside the business education wing, Friday reported, and one later burned through the wall.

"BOTH CASES are classified as arson," he said.

Romeo was the only casualty in the fires at the two schools, located about a half mile apart. That large black rabbit died in the blaze at Sherman Oaks.

"My biggest problem with the kids has been in explaining what happened to Romeo," Principal Don Stephens said Monday.

The 20-pound bunny, which usually goes home with a student for the weekend, was in the resource center, one of two rooms destroyed in the blaze. All but one other creature in the school's animal lending library had homes for the weekend. A rat, housed in an adjoining room which suffered smoke damage, survived.

"We have reassigned five teachers," Del Mar Principal Hal Sonntag reported Monday. "Two will have permanent quarters, the other three will have to jump around most of the day." Accounting, introduction to business and typing classes were held in the gutted rooms.

"WE HAVE 86 typewriters to replace," Sonntag remarked.

At Sherman Oaks the reading resource and instructional media centers were destroyed and a third grade and kindergarten classroom suffered smoke damage.

The kindergarten students are doubling up with another kindergarten class for now while the third graders are using the instructional music room. Music students are now using the multi purpose room.

"Most of the special materials we have built up (over the years) were destroyed," Stephens said, including supplies for the learning disability classes, speech and reading specialists, film strips, social studies reference material and items donated by the community. The resource center also housed a $20,000 computer on loan to the school from Hewlett Packard.

Massage parlor owner cited for operating without permit

THE OWNER OF a Campbell massage parlor, which operates in conjunction with a barber shop in the Kirkwood Plaza shopping center, was cited by police last Friday for operating without a permit.

A 32-year-old Campbell woman was also cited for working as a masseuse without a city permit.

Owner Frank R. Bojorquez, Jr. told officers he was not aware a permit was required.

Studio 76, which offers massages, saunas and hot tubs, is operated through the Studio 76 barber shop at 1680 W. Campbell ave. Bojorquez told police he felt his barber shop business license also covered the massage parlor.

THIS IS THE first, ongoing operation of a massage parlor in the City of Campbell. A city ordinance, adopted Nov. 15, 1972 strictly regulates both parlors and "massagists." Permits, renewable yearly, are required by both.

Under city ordinance the police chief investigates all applicants and later makes a determination that the parlor, and the massagists, would not be injurious to the health, safety and welfare of the people of the county.

THE HEROLD FAMILY, with, from left, Shirley, Keith, Colleen and Steve were among the most simply-named performing family groups at Quito School last week. Other group and family performers included the Wild Oats, Wallabys, Whispering Windz and Crabgrass. The Folk Music Fun Night on April 14 was one of the last big events at the local grammar school. Quito, with its 244 students this year, is one of three Campbell elementary district schools slated for closing in June.

Investors lose $28,000

Charges pending against local retail development

CHARGES WILL be filed this week against one of the developers in a proposed retail center on Bascom avenue, just south of Campbell, an assistant district attorney said last week.

Alvin Weger, assistant attorney, said a three month long investigation into the proposed European Village development is almost complete and charges will be filed.

Potential investors, Weger reported, claim to have lost $28,000 in payments for lease hold agreements on property the developers didn't own or hold an option on. It also appears, he added, that between $8,000 and $9,000 was diverted to other uses.

One of the developers involved may also be a victim in the case, Weger said.

New restaurant planned for old rockery property

The vacant rockery at the corner of Harrison street and Civic Center drive (the north loop) will be transformed into a 13,400 square foot, two story restaurant and retail center if plans get final approval from the Campbell City Council.

Last Tuesday planning commissioners unanimously recommended approval of plans by Houshang and Homayon Saber-Motamedi that would use the entire 70,300 square foot site. The project includes a 250 seating capacity restaurant in the second story of the stucco siding building and retail shops below. The 128 parking spaces provided meets the city parking ratio.

According to Dave Tanza, project designer for Habitec, the commercial development will be heavily landscaped with special attention to the property fronting on the loop street.

In other action the commission continued for 30 days the application of James M. Mackey and Frank P. Mackey to convert a residence into a "gourmet style" restaurant at 106 E. Campbell ave. The residence, located east of the Fourth street intersection, formerly housed a speech and learning center.

That application will be heard after a study committee, looking into residential conversions, has completed their work and made recommendations to the commission and council.

The commission also rescheduled their regular July meeting date, on the fourth, to Wednesday, July 5, since that day is a holiday.

QUITO student Paul Nugent was one of more than three dozen performers at the Folk Music Fun Night held at the Quito road school last Friday night. An audience of more than 200 was in attendance to hear the strumming, pickin' and fiddling fest.

News briefs

DOWNTOWN SURVEY PLANNED

Task Force '78, a subcommittee of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, will be seeking opinions of downtown owners and merchants on traffic patterns, beautification and future development of the central business district.

Chairman Vern Lamar said the questionnaires are being prepared now and will be circulated starting the first week in May.

The ideas and opinions of the downtowners will be reviewed by the Chamber and later relayed to city officials.

Committee members include Lamar, Bill Hedley, Dave Douthit, Bob Dodge, Jack Fischer and Bob Raffanti. Chamber officers also serve as ex-officio members.

SALES AND USE TAXES

Campbell has received $115,000 from the state board of equalization in the April distribution of local sales and use tax funds.

For the same period the county transit district received $762,500 from the local transportation fund.

REGISTER

, May 8, is the deadline for registering to vote in the June 6 election, County Registrar George Mann announced last week.

Under the state registration by mail law, voters can register themselves on postage-paid postcards available at fire stations, post offices, libraries and at City Hall, 75 N. Central ave.

California residents who are U.S. citizens, will be 18 by June 6 and who are not on parole as a result of a felony conviction are eligible to register. Those who have moved since they last voted must re-register.

COLLEGE PUSHES FOR STATE FUNDS

By a 5-2 vote last Thursday night West Valley College district trustees decided to send a representative to Sacramento to ask that funds for two Mission College construction projects be reinstated.

Originally, state funding that would cover about half the construction costs had been okayed. The Mission projects were later cut from the budget by the Governor.

The projects include construction of eight lighted tennis courts, four basketball courts, four sand volleyball courts and a multi-purpose soccer field. Also included were working drawings and construction of environmental and applied science facilities and an access road.

Voting against the motion were Trustees John Cantlen and Wade Brummal.

"I cannot support this because I feel that the voters don't want any more construction," Cantlen explained.

RED CROSS FIRST AID CLASSES

Signups are now underway for two standard first aid classes being offered by the Los Gatos-Saratoga branch of the American Red Cross.

The one-day classes will be held on Saturday, May 6, and Saturday, June 3, from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. at the 18011 Saratoga-Los Gatos road offices.

Minimum age is 13 years and pre-registration is required.

For information call 354-6086.

LABOR CONTRACT AVAILABLE TO PUBLIC

Copies of the initial labor contract proposal submitted by the California State Employees Association (CSEA) will be available for the public to read at the Campbell district office, 44 E. Latimer and at both West Valley and Mission campuses during normal working hours.

The governing board voted to hold a special meeting on Thursday, May 11, at 7:30 p.m. in the Saratoga campus board room to hear public comment on the contract proposal.

TOO TALL by today's standards is the Safeway sign at the Campbell Plaza shopping center. The theater marquee, in the background, is also considered too large in square footage. Both were installed before the new sign ordinance was adopted in 1973.

The sign of the times must be in good taste and not have flashing lights or moving parts

By PAT SAFFORD

WHAT DO THE "Jesus Saves" greeting atop a church on Railway avenue and the Winchester Drive-in marque have in common?

Both are examples of non-conforming signs; those which don't meet the present sign ordinance. These two signs, and hundreds more, were installed before the 1973 ordinance was adopted.

They wouldn't be allowed today.

In the case of the church sign it's the neon lights. And the flashing lights and oversized marquee of the drive-in sign would prompt raised eyebrows and a speedy turndown if presented for approval today.

Like religion and politics, signs are a debatable point; particularly in Campbell.

SIGNS TAKE UP more time on the Planning Commission agenda than any other single item, remarked Bruce Powell, senior city planner. "Everyone has a different opinion."

The Campbell sign ordinance, adopted May 15, 1973, spells out the dos and don'ts of signing. Signs shall be no higher than 35 feet (or at the roof line if attached to the building), no moving or flashing lights are allowed and no sign shall have a display surface greater than 250 square feet. Free standing signs may not project over public property or be more than six feet high. And free oriented signs are allowed, upon the approval by the City Council, for identification only.

At a recent council-planning commission study session Planning Director Art Kee reported Campbell has an estimated 1,500 non-conforming signs. That estimate was based on a city-wide survey carried out by Intern Steve Tedesco last summer.

"Non-conforming" means these signs are either too tall, exceed present standards or have no sign permit on file. Most were erected before the ordinance was adopted.

Under guidelines set down in 1973, business owners had three years to bring their signs up to snuff. Or, the remaining amortization allowed by the Internal Revenue Service in writing off the cost of the sign.

AND, WHILE THERE is some muscle in the city ordinance, it has never really been enforced.

The usual procedure is to make a sign permit a condition of approval when new applications for construction or uses come before the city.

When Standard Stations adopted a new logo several years ago, for instance, the city required all signs to be lowered as a condition of approval. Those "Car Care center" signs are on all Campbell stations now, except the one at the corner of Salmar and Hamilton avenues. The firm chose to keep the tall, rotating Shell sign and forget the new logo.

"We've used all the powers we had," declared Powell.

A MORE RECENT case was with the Breuner's rooftop sign, visible to Highway 17 travelers. When the furniture company sought approval for refurbishing and enlarging their present facility, one condition of approval was that the rooftop sign be removed. That condition was appealed to the City Council who upheld the commission ruling. At last word, Breuner's was expected to forget the project and keep the sign.

In the first year after its adoption, the new sign law was administered mainly by the planning director. Sensitive or disputed cases were routed to the Planning Commission and, if still unresolved, to the City Council.

But some city officials, most vocally Councilman Bill Podgorsek, were critical of a few of those staff decisions.

The "straw that broke the camel's back" all agree was the Best Products sign approved for the Hamilton ave. discount store near the San Tomas Expressway.

On Oct. 15, 1974 Councilman Rusty Hammer proposed a new council policy creating the Sign Review Committee. ". . . a member of the commission and a councilman will sit in with the sign advisors and, if they determine a sign application should come before the council, it will be so referred," the motion reads. Mayor Norm Paul appointed Podgorsek council representative, a post he has held since.

PLANNING COMMISSIONERS rotate on the committee. Carl Samuelson is the current planning commission representative.

The introduction of the Sign Review Committee did eliminate the problem of signs which met with official disdain. But it also complicated the approval process.

If everyone is in agreement that a sign meets current standards "and is tasteful" an application can breeze through channels in five days to a week. If not, the routing and rerouting process can take up to three months.

Legally, the planning director is still impowered to approve, deny or modify sign applications. Practically though, Kee has never locked horns with the city official-committee members.

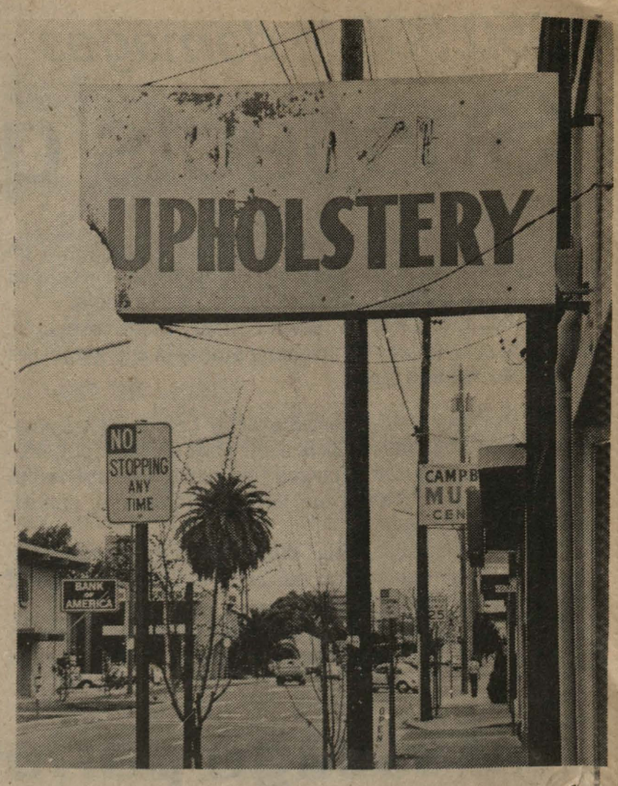
The route of a disputed sign application can be torturous. First, the sign advisor (Mike Kotowski) reviews the application and makes comments. Then it comes before the Sign Review Committee. Then on to Kee and, from there, to the Planning Commission who routinely routes it to the Site and Architectural Review Committee (made up of two other planning commissioners). Then it's back to the Planning Commission with the sign application and, if no agreement has been reached, on to the City Council for an appeal hearing.

TO COMPLICATE THE picture further, there have been cases where the two review committees disagree. On the same application the Sign Review Committee has recommended denial, for instance, while the Site and Architectural Review Committee recommended approval.

In the recent study session the subject of signs, and the city sign ordinance, came in for a lot of discussion. One concern that surfaced was the fact that the Sign Review Committee, which oversees all applications, does not have any legal status other than council policy. That committee is not mentioned in the sign ordinance.

THE SIGN ORDINANCE will be the focus of a study to be carried out by a new committee made up of council, commission and Campbell Chamber of Commerce representatives. Councilmen Paul and Hammer will represent the council while Commissioners Samuelson and Don Hebard were named by the commission. The chamber has not named their representatives yet.

If past experience in the discussion of signs is any indication, the study committee will have plenty to talk about.



SIGNS that jut out over the public right of way are also a no no by today's standards. A study by the Campbell Planning Department last year showed an estimated 1,500 signs in the city don't meet present sign guidelines.

FLASHING or blinking lights are specifically prohibited in the city sign ordinance, which will be under review by a study committee made up of city council, planning commission and chamber of commerce representatives.

Morgan Park won't be going to the dogs

Fido won't be getting a warm welcome at John D. Morgan Park. At least not in the near future.

Last Thursday Campbell parks and recreation commissioners recommended the present ordinance, banning animals from city parks, be upheld "until such time that a poll is taken that indicates public reaction would be favorable."

Since Morgan Park opened four years ago animals have been banned. Dog owners are the usual violators and park security aides are kept busy warning people to keep their pets off park property. If violators are cited by Campbell police they face a $35 fine in the local municipal court.

A letter to the City Council from Sue Freligh asking for a change in that rule prompted the referral of the question to parks commissioners. Mrs. Freligh advocates that the rule be changed to "No dogs allowed, except on a leash." Her suggestion also got the backing of local dog fancier Sally Howe.

According to Dewey Reed, chairman of the subcommittee on parks, he and Commissioners Edith Morley and Courtland Watson plan to survey park-goers in the near future to get their reaction to a change in the law.

West Valley College's "Hamlet" cast members hailing from Campbell are, from left, Michael Pace, Dorothy Salinas, Lorin Steward in the title role and Lynn Tavella. This modern version of the famous tragedy opens Thursday, April 27, in the Saratoga campus theater. Repeat performances are scheduled for April 28 and 29 and May 4, 5 and 6. Curtain time is 8 p.m. For ticket information call 867-2200, ext. 324 or 326.

THIS SIGN for a furniture company on Hamilton avenue is okay. But a rooftop sign facing Highway 17 was the issue in an appeal before the city council earlier this month. The city wants the roof sign removed as a condition for granting approval of refurbishing plans.

Contributions go to provide service and rehabilitation support for cancer patients and their families, educational materials for students and the public and research.

ALUMNI, parents and friends are invited to the 20th anniversary celebration of Campbell Parent's Nursery School this Sunday, April 30 from 1 to 4 p.m. at the 528 N. Harrison St. center. Above, from left, Director Helen Riedel, Greg Corrigan, 4, Barbara Perston, little Dave Boylan and Kathy Boylan (an alumni) are among those who will be on hand for the open house. A champagne and cake cutting ceremony will be held at 2 p.m. The local preschool got its start in February of 1958 at the First United Methodist Church of Campbell. Lillian McCall was the first director. Mrs. Reidel took charge of the program in September of 1959. The parent's pre-school moved to its present location in September of 1962. A case of telephonitis

By JEANIE SCHULTZ

GOVERNMENT BUDGET experts have broken food and household expenses into precise percentages in booklets that promise great disaster if your rent or house payments exceed one week's salary. But nowhere is there a formula for calculating the expense involved in having a telephone in a house with a group of kids who have moved, and acquired friends, nine times in the last nine years.

The telephone is a cherished object in our house, its only period of disuse occurring occasionally between midnight and 6 a.m. It's also going to bankrupt us.

"Time is money" becomes a stark reality when it comes to talking on the telephone. We don't talk about chatting for 15 minutes with friends. Conversations become valued in dollars.

"I talked for $8 to my sister (Colorado) the other night," or "It took me $4.75 (Kansas) to straighten the matter out."

BUT THE KIDS are the real problem. Nobody writes any helpful books entitled "Between Patent and Telephoning Teenager." I try the understanding calm route, looking at more than $30 to one number in long distance calls.

"You really like talking to your friends in Colorado? Was it important?"

"Oh yeah," daughter defends, "my friend has a new boyfriend and she told me all about him. She got some new jeans, too."

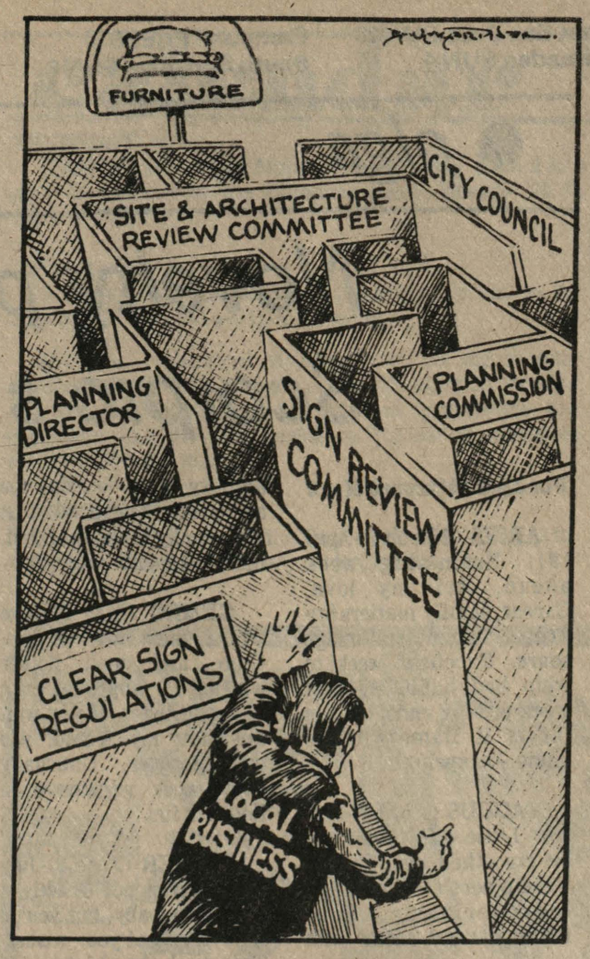
The dangerous calm explodes.

"You could have mailed 230 letters for the amount you talked," I shriek.

Then I huffily install a lock on the dial, and she's in hock for the next six months.

WHILE THE PHONE is locked up the hair grows back around the daughters' ears and I get a good look at them without the receiver extending from the side of their heads. Except they clue in their friends to call them, and within days the thing rings constantly. It finally gets to be a pain to carry a key to make my own calls so we make another agreement about the phone.

The solutions seem fairly drastic, take out the phone or break all their fingers so they can't dial. But I'm working on an alternate. If I could only figure out some way to wire the phone up so it wouldn't work except in conjunction with the dishwasher or vacuum cleaner, I think I'd have it licked.



Are you sure this is the only way through? Last year a local merchant tried this path and was never heard from again.

What do you say about the old Campbell grammar school??

EDITOR:

For months and months the City of Campbell and the Campbell elementary school district have been dickering over what to do with the old elementary school building that sits on the northeast corner of Campbell avenue and Winchester boulevard.

Since I am an old time carpenter and builder of all kinds of buildings, in my own opinion that building will still be standing long after some of the other buildings are lying flat on the ground after a major earthquake has hit (regardless of what these earthquake experts say).

The point I am trying to make is that since about 99 per cent of all people now living in this district had no part in either buying or paying for the property, I have very strong feelings that the school board should take action to simply donate and dedicate this parcel of property to the people of the City of Campbell.

This should be done with very strong stipulations that the city retain the present structure and make all necessary alterations to make the building safe and set up a standing committee from all walks of life to see to it that this is done as a memorial to the old timers.

If this is not legally possible, then let's send some lawmakers to Sacramento to change that.

What is your opinion on this subject? Please write this paper a letter and let's hear your viewpoint.

SOME NUMBERS AREN'T LUCKY

"Is eight your lucky number?" we asked their Mom, Alice Farnham, last week.

"Oh no!," was her quick retort. "I hope it's not a lucky number. We have seven children now."

CAMPBELL IS IRISH?

According to the Rev. Leonard Bose of St. Lucy's Church the word "Campbell" originated in Ireland, not Scotland.

And translated it means "boldly and openly."

RAIN REPORT

April showers dumped .17 of an inch of rain on local streets early this week bringing the season total to 23.98 inches.

Last year at this time we had registered 6.97 inches and normal for the fourth week in April is 14.50.

Novelty peeps over Scorpio's horizon

For April 29 through May 5

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Promising week ahead, Ari my love. Career, family matters improve. Your self-image soars. Excellent week to whip bad habit. As first week of May ends, old fire (or is it flame?) blazes anew. Ah, spring!

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Little differences can be smoothed out, Taurus. Take others (and yourself) less seriously. Your restless mind seeths with activity and by last day you are willing to concede that May really is the maddest, merriest month after all.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Launch new venture, Gem, and don't bother waiting for approval from the multitudes. If you wait for that, my friend, you wait forever. Unusually busy week wiggles to a feverish fini.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): You're not exactly a nag, Moonbaby, but you do tend to repeat your wishes. This week the old dripping faucet technique will not work. Try new tack. Last day you discover that May is for lovers and no others.

LEO (July 23-August 22): You have charm and animal magnetism, Leo, and soon a silent admirer speaks up. Feast on the knowledge that you are loved. And with this feast — why not a cool bottle of May wine?

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): The greatest offense of all is to be uncaring, Virgo, so if this week you meet one who is in need — give. And give with a willing heart. Need can be the first step toward love. You never know. But Olga does.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): First day comes up like a daffodil but from then on it's progress just to survive. Lachrymal glands apt to work overtime — without pay. But by last day you pull yourself out of emotional mire and are your own silly self again.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Novelty peeps over horizon. A new love? Perhaps. It depends on you, Scorp. But early May days can suddenly chill. If so, button up your jacket and remember that one love follows another as surely as spring follows winter. Small comfort, perhaps, but true.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): First day rather tacky. Sorry, sweet Saj, but if energy is low limp along as best you can. Before last day you hear news and are sustained by anticipation of events to come.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Week ahead can be filled with joy, dear Cap, it is all up to you. Sure, you may weep a bit, but your weeping is followed by laughter. May bree[illegible] whisper secrets in your [illegible] and kiss you in your hor[illegible] hollow. Lucky Cap!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Welcome the fresh breezes of May, Aquari, and allow them to blow away collected cobwebs. Give in to creative urge, for to create is to truly live. Over easy does it.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Buds of affection could blossom into love, Pisces, if you would but give them the chance. First week of May ends on note of magic. Tra-la, tra-la.

County's volunteers take the spotlight

NINETEEN individual volunteers and three groups were in the spotlight last week, as the county's Voluntary Action Center and San Jose Junior League presented annual awards to outstanding volunteers.

Hundreds of volunteers from organizations throughout the county attended the recognition luncheon, were entertained by MC Frank Dill, radio station KNBR's "Morning Mayor," and heard Barbara Sugarman of the Office of Voluntary Citizen Participation, Washington, D.C., pay tribute to what volunteers are accomplishing locally.

Plaques were given to outstanding youth, adult male, adult female, senior citizen, administrative, and group efforts. There was also a national award bestowed by the National Center for Voluntary Action.

Youth

Carlos Alvarez, the youngest member of the Mosquitos Eastside Action Club's Board of Directors, where he helps set policy and start new programs. He works with club members as a peer counselor and volunteer trainer in San Jose.

Diane Drom, a Red Cross volunteer at Westgate Convalescent Hospital, where she has also taken on many leadership tasks. She has initiated programs including "Adopt a Friend" where residents and volunteers are matched, and has also organized a carnival for patients.

James Gage, known as jack-of-all trades in the Radiology Department at Alexian Brothers Hospital in San Jose. He not only orients new volunteers to the department, he has also helped train new radiology personnel.

Renee Mallet, who has led a weekly training site for the San Jose Special Olympics for a year and a half. She has also recruited other young people to help supervise the Special Olympics floor hockey tournament.

Adult male

Frank Giorgianni, who last year initiated an aluminum recycling fund-raising drive for the Muscular Dystrophy Association. He enlisted the aid of fellow CB club members in the highly successful drive, which netted over $30,000.

Frank Lopez, founder of the Northside Boxing Association in San Jose, which is licensed by the Amateur Athletic Union. In addition to learning boxing skills, his young fighters get lessons in citizenship and learn to develop more self-esteem.

Joe Mercado, a regular volunteer for the Parental Stress Hotline and chairman of the Hotline's newsletter. He regularly works as a trainer of new volunteers, who aim to combat the problem of child abuse and foster good parent skills.

Adult female

Jones hits long homer

Willow Glen remains only unbeaten squad

THANKS LARGELY to the slugging of Tony Hemphill and the pitching of Larry Miranda, Willow Glen Optimists remained the only undefeated team in the major division of the Campbell Little League last week.

Hemphill blasted his second home run of the young season to key a 3-2 win over Brueners and Miranda fired a seven-hitter to beat Doetsch Building 4-2 last week, lifting Willow Glen's record to 3-0, good for a half-game lead over Moose Lodge and Fontanetti's.

Brian Bertolin worked the first five innings, allowing just three hits and striking out nine, to notch the win over Brueners. Miranda and James Sullivan both turned in fine relief performances, Sullivan recording the save.

Hemphill, whose home run led-off the third inning, also contributed a single to the Willow Glen attack.

Miranda needed late inning relief help from Dave Niemeyer to post the win over Doetsch last Saturday.

Moose Lodge and Fontanetti's, meanwhile, took turns knocking each other from the ranks of the unbeatens.

MOOSE HANDED Fontanetti's its first loss of the season last Saturday 2-1, behind the brilliant one-hit pitching of Brent Hahn.

George Tsamis spoiled Hahan's bid for a no-hitter with a two out single to left-center in the last inning.

Hahn, the younger brother of former New York Met outfielder Don Hahn, fanned six in the win.

Tsamis suffered the loss, despite yielding just three hits and striking out seven.

John Morrison knocked in one of Moose's runs while the other scored as a result of an error.

Fontanetti's came back the next day to end Moose's three game win streak with a 5-2 victory.

Gary Favre chalked up the win, allowing just five hits and striking out six.

Mike Mattingly, Mike Medefesser and Tsamis collected two hits apiece to spark the Fontanetti's triumph. Bill Avery laced a pair of doubles for Moose Lodge.

Earlier in the week, both teams posted easy wins. Fontanetti's stopped Campbell Plaza 7-4 last Wednesday, while Moose tripped Robins 8-5 last Thursday.

MEDEFESSER pitched and hit Fontanetti's to its win, striking out 11 on the mound and rapping a double and two singles at the plate.

Anthony Castro collected two hits and drove in three runs for the losers while Kenny Vaughn contributed a pair of bunt singles.

Avery tossed Moose's win over Robins, fanning nine along the way.

Gerry Pennington keyed the Moose Lodge attack with two doubles and three runs-batted-in while Hahn belted a double and drove in two runs. Steve Cena chipped in with a pair of singles.

In other action last week, D's Automotive and Doetsch battled to a 9-9 tie in a game that was called due to darkness.

Doetsch's Wayne Terwilliger blasted a three run homer in the second inning to get his club off to a fast start. Terwilliger later added a single.

Louis Rivera also had two hits and three RBI's for Doetsch Building.

Kevin Schaffer singled and tripled, and Sam Acosta singled twice to pace D's at the plate.

Daryl Jones, a lefthand swinging first baseman for Brueners, clubbed one of the longest home runs in Campbell Little League history last Saturday to spur his club to a 5-4 win over D's Automotive.

JONES UNLOADED a three run shot that landed in the third lane on Hamilton avenue. The Brueners' slugger also belted a double in the game.

Peter Christian had two hits for the winners, including a double.

Robert Artery keyed D's attack with a solo home run and a double while John Altovilla and A. J. Martino both collected two singles.

Mark Phillips notched the win.

Craig White went the distance on hill, allowing only three hits and strik out eight, to hurl Campbell Plaza to a 6-1 win over Robins.

Anthony Castro sparked the Plaza offense with a perfect three for three performance while Andy Buchanan and Gilbert Vanegas both lashed two hits.

Plaza knocked off Robins again last Sunday, 2-0 in seven innings.

Buchanan, who worked the first six innings, giving up just two hits and striking out 12, received credit for the win while Vanegas posted the save. Dan Egger, although not involved in the decision, pitched brilliantly for Robins, allowing just four hits and fanning 12 in six innings of work.

Craig White's two hits topped the Plaza attack.

Scott Berry fired a two-hitter and struck out 12 to lead D's to a 4-0 shut-out win over Brueners.

Jones took the loss, despite allowing just four hits and whiffing nine.

Greg Vaughn collected two hits for D's.

We're putting a lot of energy into the sun.

Wednesday, May 3rd will be observed around the world as "Sun Day" and PG&E is glad to be taking part.

As fuel resources have become scarce, we've been exploring ways Californians can use the sun's energy. Right now PG&E is involved in over 85 solar projects like those listed here. We're testing solar heating systems in homes, offices, greenhouses and on farms. And many other projects are planned. We want to help you decide how solar energy may fit into your life.

Solar energy is already heating water, swimming pools and buildings and shows great promise for helping conserve energy. Although practical ways of using the sun to generate electricity are still many years away, we're working on that too. PG&E, in cooperation with others, plans to build a small scale experimental sunlight-to-electricity plant that will produce power by the early 1980's. The estimated construction cost of $20,000 per kilowatt is about 30 times the cost of building a new hydroelectric plant. But by the end of the century, commercially-proven solar plants could well be providing a portion of your electricity.

If you would like information on solar heating equipment or further directions to a solar demonstration project, just give us a call. And ask for our free booklet "Sun Energy." It shows how solar heating systems can work to conserve energy in homes like yours. PG and E

HUSTLING BUC — Campbell catcher Brian Raust displayed a lot of hustle on this attempt for a dving catch against Del Mar earlier this season. But his hustle went for naught as the ball popped out of his mit. The Bucs hustled into first place last week with a trio of wins while the Branham Bruins were sufferin a costly loss.

Del Mar wins 3rd straight

Sullivan hurls Bucs to tight win over LG

NOT LONG after Mark Sullivan stepped onto the tall mound at Los Gatos high school last week, he looked to the Wildcat scoreboard and found himself behind by a run.

Los Gatos scored quickly in the first against Campbell in the Thursday game to put Sullivan and the Buccaneers behind early.

But Sullivan's been a pitcher in the West Valley Athletic League far too long to let just one run bother him — especially when that's all he plans on giving up in the ballgame!

Sullivan fought back after falling behind early to shut-out the Wildcats the rest of the way and toss Campbell to a tight 2-1 victory over Los Gatos.

Sullivan tossed a three-hitter at the Wildcats, fanning four and walking just two. He hit two batters.

"Sullivan rose to the occasion," said Campbell coach Gordon Huntze in praise of his right-hander. "He had good control and pitched an excellent game."

Sullivan ran his record to 3-1 on the year with the win to help the league leading Bucs punch their record to 7-2.

Campbell only ripped three hits in the game but made them count for a pair of runs to pick up the victory.

CAMPBELL SCORED without benefit of a hit in the fourth inning to tie the game 1-1. Mike Updegraff walked but was forced at second by Joe Cucchiara.

Cucchiara moved up on a wild pitch and scored when Sullivan's ground ball was thrown away by the Cat shortstop.

An inning later Campbell plated the game winning run. Dan Trinidad singled and stole second. He scored when Dave Erkman was safe on another error by the LG shortstop.

Trinidad, Erkman and Dan Romeo slapped the only hits in the win for Campbell, all three singles.

Tim Alcocer, the Buc shortstop, helped Campbell ice the victory with a "couple of outstanding plays," according to Huntze.

He made one play to save a run and get Sullivan out of an inning when he dove to his right to save a base hit with a runner on second. That in itself saved a run, but Alcocer got up to throw out the runner at first to retire the side. The runner was the Los Gatos lead-off hitter.

The win didn't come easy. Los Gatos threatened in the last of the seventh when the Wildcat's opened the frame with a bloop double to left.

Sullivan got the next hitter on a pop fly to the catcher and the second out on a ground ball to third.

But with the Cat runner on third, an LG hitter hit a lazy pop fly towards second. The Buc second sacker short-hopped the ball and threw to a hustling Sullivan who was covering the bag for the game ending out.

EARLIER IN the week the Bucs posted victories over Camden and Prospect.

Campbell opened the week with a 3-2 win over Camden last Monday, pushing across single runs in the sixth and seventh innings to pull out the victory.

Trailing 2-1 in the sixth, Campbell tied the game on Cucchiara's run scoring single to right, plating Mark Ortiz.

In the seventh, Trinidad led-off with a single, stole second and eventually scored on a Cougar error.

Ortiz went the distance on the mound, allowing six hits and striking out seven, to raise his WVAL record to 2-0.

Cucchiara was three for three in the win while Trinidad, who also scored the Bucs' first run, was two for three. Brian Raust accounted for Campbell's only other hit.

Joe Jones also raised his WVAL record to 2-0 last Tuesday by blanking the Prospect Panthers 9-0. The win avenged a 10-8 defeat at the hand of Prospect earlier in the season.

CAMPBELL BROKE the game open early with a four run second inning rally, highlighted by a three run homer off the bat of Trinidad.

Trinidad drove in another run in the fourth with a ground out.

The Bucs then put the game on ice in the seventh with another four run outburst. Sullivan's two run double keyed the uprising while Updegraff lashed a run scoring single and Scott Pence drilled a sacrifice fly.

Cucchiara and Sullivan were both two for three in the win while Jones, Erkman and Trinidad each chipped in with one hit.

The Del Mar Dons played only one game last week but stretched their winning streak to three straight games by stopping Los Gatos 9-4. The victory evened Del Mar's WVAL record at 4-4.

Jeff Blobaum hurled the important win for the Dons, coming on in relief of a struggling Tom Bell in the first inning to toss six and two-thirds innings of four-hit baseball.

BLOBAUM WALKED five and struck out eight during his relief stint.

A six run fourth inning rally keyed Del Mar's win. Blobaum opened the decisive frame with a single to left and moved to second on a sacrifice by Scott Levander.

Craig Bates followed with a single to left to score Blobaum. Bates then stole second and romped home on pinch-hitter Fred Gradel's double to right-center.

Dan McKay promptly lashed a run scoring single to left and Bell drew a walk. Sean Venezia then hit a grounder to shortstop that resulted in a throwing error, allowing both McKay and Bell to race home.

Catcher Jim Dorr then capped the rally with a single to left, scoring Venenzia.

The Dons added an insurance run in the fifth when Bates beat out an infield single, moved to third on a pair of wild pitches and scored on Kevin Cesar's sacrifice fly to left.

McKay, Blobaum and Bates all collected two hits in the game for Del Mar while Levander, Dorr and Gradel each added one.

Warrior golfers trounce Camden

STEVE HARRIS nailed medalist honors for the Westmont golf team last week to pace the Warriors to an easy 9-5 victory over Camden in West Valley Athletic league golf action.

The win for Westmont came after the Warriors had picked up an important victory over Del Mar 16-8. Tom Bickley shot a 75 for Westmont in that one to share medalist honors with Mark Roos of the Dons. Roos also shot a 75.

In non-league match, Dave Hart fired a 77 at La Rinconada to lead Westmont past Watsonville 17-7.

Roos carded a 71 to lead Del Mar to a tight 12½-11½ WVAL win over Los Gatos recently. The win came after the Dons had whitewashed Prospect 24-0 over 14 holes, Roos firing a 58.

Los Gatos also blitzed Prospect 24-0, Paul Smith notching the low score for the Wildcats.

Pete Garza shot a 68 over 16 holes to lead Leigh to a 22-2 victory over Branham and Chris Staedler fired a 65 over 14 holes to pace Camden to a 13½-10½ win over Branham in other WVAL matches.

Campbell-Moreland Pony league starts 20th year

THE CAMPBELL-Moreland Pony League launches its 20th baseball season Saturday with four games on the Morgan Park Pony diamond.

Opening ceremonies are scheduled at 11 a.m., immediately following the 8:30 a.m. opener between the American Realty Cardinals and the Wheelaway Cycle A's.

At 11:30 a.m., the defending champion Straw Hat Pizza Tigers tangle with Fontanetti's Yankees. It'll be a pizza battle at 2 p.m. when Magoo's Pirates mix it with Jacky Boy's Cubs. The 4:30 p.m. finale pits the Gagliardi Insurance Dodgers against the Campbell Optimist Mets.

The same eight teams will play again Sunday at the same times, except the first game which is scheduled at 9:30 a.m.

Joe McGrody, a member of Campbell's Board of Trustees, will serve as master of ceremonies for Saturday's opening ceremonies. Several city and Pony League officials will be among the guests.

The ninth team in the Pony League, Fiorillo's Giants, will not open league play until Tuesday when they take on the Yankees at 5:30 p.m.

All nine teams participated in last weekend's Jamboree, which was won by the Pirates who bested the Yankees in the championship game. The Mets won the consolation title.

TOUCHING THEM ALL — Blackford graduate Dan Bongiovanni touches them all after blasting a home run in Santa Clara University's 8-3 exhibition game win over the San Francisco Giants. Bongiovanni, another WVAL product at SCU, also collected a single against the Giants and later in the week blasted a grand slam homer to give run to give the Broncos a 7-5 win over Fresno State.

Leigh stars shine at SCU

Foley, Guyon one-two Bronco pitching punch

By DICK SPARRER

IT WAS FOUR years ago when Rick Foley and Steve Guyon provided the one-two pitching punch that took the Leigh Longhorns to the Central Coast Section baseball title.

The two, along with Randy Raphael taking his mound turn, frustrated opposing hitters all season long on the prep level to lead Leigh to the championship.

But times change. Things can't always remain like they were in high school — or can they? Times haven't changed much for Foley and Guyon — they're still frustrating hitters on the same mound staff, just on a higher level.

Just like the West Valley Athletic League and Central Coast Section hitters learned in 1974, the West Coast Athletic Conference hitters are finding out in 1978 — Foley and Guyon are tough to beat pitching on the same staff!

Foley and Guyon are together again, winning games for the University of Santa Clara Broncos in the tough WCAC.

It's unusual to find two starting pitchers from the same high school, in the same year, move up to play major college baseball. But it's unheard of for those two pitchers to move up to the same college.

BUT FOLEY and Guyon did the "unheard of" when they each accepted scholarships to attend Santa Clara after pitching Leigh to the CCS championship.

Association between the two pitchers began way back in the late 60's when each was pitching for a Little League senior division all-star team.

The two, strangers at the time, locked up in a real pitcher's duel on the diamond at Leland high school, Guyon pitching for the Branham Hills senior stars and Foley hurling for the Union stars. Guyon came out on top in that one 1-0.

The two are now roommates at Santa Clara and boast the best records on the Bronco staff in 1978.

Both pitchers are throwing the ball well this spring, Foley well enough to do something he's never done before in his mound career — flip a no-hitter.

Foley tossed the first no-hitter of his career a few weeks ago when he beat San Jose State University 3-0, outduelling former prep mate Raphael.

"IT WAS ONE of the goals that I always wanted to achieve," said Foley, who came within an out of tossing a no-hitter last year against St. Mary's. "I was nipped in the bud quite a few times, but I knew after last year that I wanted it bad."

Foley secured the no-hitter with two strike-outs and a pop fly in the ninth inning against San Jose, fanning the last hitter. "I threw him a curve on one-two and he went fishing," said the Bronco ace.

Foley, who passed up a five figure contract with the San Diego Padres to play his senior season at Santa Clara, was picked the Northern California player of the week for tossing the gem.

Professional baseball is a goal that both players have been looking forward to for many years, but the two have different outlooks on where they stand right now.

"I'd like to think I could pitch in the big leagues some day," said Foley. "The fast ball is there, but I've got to have the good breaking pitch."

"Rick has been super from the start," said Bronco boss Sal Taormina of Foley. "He ranks right among the top as one of the best competitors we've had here. He's definitely a candidate for the big leagues."

"He rises to the occasion no matter what," added Taormina. "He's like Pete Rose — when he gets in a jam he relishes it. Rick's that type of guy."

LEIGH BASEBALL coach Hal Kolstad echoes Taormina's remarks.

"Foley was one of the top competitors I've ever had here," said the Longhorn boss. "He did so much for our program — he taught us how to win. He was a silent leader — everyone seemed to rally behind him."

Guyon isn't quite as confident about the making it to the professional ranks.

"It's always been my dream to play professional baseball, but now I can see that my dream probably isn't going to come true," he said. "I can get college hitters out, but I can see now that I didn't work hard enough when I was younger."

"He hasn't had a lazy day in his life," contradicted Foley. "He worked as hard as any of us."

"Steve has come along slow, but I can see the potential in him," said Taormina. "He still hasn't reached his potential. He's strong and quick — I hope he gets the opportunity to play somewhere."

Kolstad has confidence in the big 6'5", 215 pounder.

"I think he can go a long way," said Kolstad. "A kid that size who can throw that hard slider is what the scouts are looking for, especially in relief."

The two Bronco stars are each other's best boosters, constantly helping each other out on the mound.

"Steve and I have worked together for so long that we know each other very well," said Foley. "We help each other out and kick each other in the butt when we need it. We compliment each other very well."

THE TWO HAVE high praise for their prep coach, Kolstad, and Bronco pitching coach Jerry McClain for providing much of the direction in their careers over the years.

The two have been pitchers ever since their Little League days in the Almaden Valley, but both took time out for other sports in high school.

Foley is in his fourth year on the Santa Clara varsity and is second to Rich Troedson on the Bronco all-time victory list. Troedson, a graduate of Camden high school, recorded a 40-17 record in his career at Santa Clara and Foley owns a 24-12 record.

Foley was 0-1 as a freshman at Santa Clara with a low 1.69 record earned run average and was 6-5 as a sophomore with a 3.86 ERA.

As a junior Foley was 10-3 with a 1.29 ERA, good for junior co-pitcher of the year honors in the WCAC. This year Foley is 8-3 currently with an earned run average of 2.43.

Guyon came up the Santa Clara varsity as a sophomore and was 0-2 with a 5.10 ERA. Last year he was 4-4 with a 2.98 ERA and this year is off to a strong start with a 6-2 record and 2.73 ERA.

The two possess outstanding statistics and have three weeks of the 1978 season left to improve on those stats and help the Broncos win — and also open the scout's eyes!
